Amend the Law relating to the Salaries and Allowances of Resident Magistrates in Ireland. A.D. 1920.

BE it enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:—

5 1.—(1) The Lord Lieutenant may by order made with the concurrence of the Treasury prescribe the rates and scales of salaries and allowances to be paid to resident magistrates and the conditions applicable thereto, and, subject to the provisions of the order, any rates, scales, and conditions thereby prescribed
10 shall have effect as from the date therein specified instead of the rates, scales, and conditions prescribed by or in pursuance of the Resident Magistrates and Police Commissioners Salaries Act, 1874, or any other Act, or by any previous order under this section or otherwise.

Power of Lord Lieutenant to prescribe the salaries and allowances of resident magistrates.

27 & 28 Vict. c. 23.

15 (2) An order made under this section shall have effect as if enacted in this Act, but may be revoked or varied by any subsequent order so made.

20 (3) The salaries and allowances payable in pursuance of any such order shall (except where and so far as the order may otherwise direct) be paid out of moneys provided by Parliament.

25 (4) A resident magistrate retiring within three years from the date when the first order made under this section after the passing of this Act comes into operation shall be treated for the purposes of section twelve of the Superannuation Act, 1894, as if he had been in the class from which he retires for a period of three years, notwithstanding that he may have been promoted within that period.
